Civil society for lifelong skills development in Europe and partner countries EAEA joint conference

ETF-LLLP-

TIMING: 23RD May 2023, 09.15-16.00 CEST

VENUE: Rue de Spa 2, Brussels - Directorate-General for Employment,
Social Affairs and Inclusion, European Commission

CONFERENCE RATIONALE

The European Year of Skills 2023 focuses on the priority to reach 60% of adults engaged in learning. This priority stated by major EU policies – the European Pillar of Social Rights' Action Plan, Skills Agenda and Council Resolution on new European agenda for adult learning 2021-2030¹ - calls for greater attention to and increased investment in education, training, lifelong learning.

The European Training Foundation (ETF), the Lifelong Learning Platform (LLLP) and the European Association for the Education of Adults (EAEA) join forces in promoting policy dialogue and partnerships between governments and civil society organisations that are active in the sector, both in ETF Partner Countries and EU Member States, as a means towards access to good quality lifelong learning for all.

The Conference participants suggest that lifelong learning policies should be shaped by all stakeholders: Ministries, agencies, schools and other training providers and their teachers, Civil Society Organisations and private sector. Including Civil Society Organisations (CSOs) in policy dialogue and design will bring advantages, and lead policies to address the diversity of people and their learning needs.

The Conference participants will discuss the conditions for an inclusive policy dialogue on lifelong learning. The programme will draw from experiences, such as the drafting of National Skills Strategies in few countries and/or other approaches that tackle the challenge of building lifelong learning and skills development systems, by considering each country specific context.

CONFERENCE OBJECTIVES

- 1) To highlight the advantages of civil dialogue at all stages of policy making
- 2) Discuss and agree upon follow up actions, in EU and partner countries

QUESTIONS PROPOSED FOR DISCUSSION

- How far have CSOs been involved in the formulation of skills development policies in partner countries?
- Are the National Skills Strategy a good practice case for EU Member States and partner countries? How is the impact measured?
- What are the CSOs' main contributions to policy formulation, which would be missed otherwise?
- Do the National Skills Strategies and other policy formulations pay attention to the local level?
- What kind of cooperation is envisaged at local level, to address challenges such as lack of opportunities, marginalisation and people left behind, brain drain, or other challenges?
- How can co-creation and participation in skills policy making shape a common vision among stakeholders?
- What concrete mechanisms for policy and civic dialogue are available?
